Join us for an engaging debate as we stand just a month away from the European Parliament elections, where we are going to welcome a new parliament. With this possibility of a new parliament on the horizon, the conversation turns towards ambitious central topic, where both hope and concerns can appear.

The first part of the debate will be centered around Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the European Green Deal, and the reform of our economic system, and what kind of ambition the new parliament will have, to really transform the societies as it is so needed.

Moreover, we'll explore the crucial question of inclusivity in decision-making. How can we enhance the involvement of citizens and stakeholders in shaping the future of the European Union? The conversation will encompass innovative approaches to foster meaningful participation, ensuring that diverse voices are heard and valued in EU governance.

Be part of this crucial discourse shaping the future trajectory of the European Parliament and the European Union as a whole. Your voice matters in charting a sustainable and inclusive path forward for Europe. Join us and let your ideas stir the dialogue for a better tomorrow.
